29th February 2024

Dear Parents and Carers,

The time of year is here again and we are extremely excited to celebrate World Book Day in school. As previously mentioned on the school newsletter, we will be celebrating World Book Day on Thursday 7th March.

As a school, our aim is to instill a deep love of books into all of our children by exposing them to high quality stories and authors from a range of genres. Therefore, we are asking children to celebrate this passion and knowledge by coming to school dressed as their favourite fictional book character. We encourage you to be creative, there is no need to purchase expensive costumes from the supermarkets. There are lots of simple costumes that can be made using objects from around the house. We have included some examples on the following page for inspiration.

Your child is also invited to bring in their favourite text from home to share with the class, if they choose. In doing this, we hope to share a variety of books from different authors, genres and cultures. Please do not go out and buy a book especially, I am sure there will be plenty of books to share in each class.

Yours Faithfully,

Miss Lally
