Dear Parents and Carers,

It is an exciting time of year... the scholastic book fair is coming to St William of York again! The book fair is a fantastic opportunity for children to buy well priced books and explore new authors and stories. You and your child will be able to purchase books via a QR code from Tuesday 10th November until Friday 13th November. The books on offer range from authors such as Rachel Renee Russell, author of Dork Diaries, to Julia Donaldson, author of The Gruffalo.

As we are extremely looking forward to having the book fair in school, we are running a competition before it arrives. 5 lucky winners will receive a book token worth £5 that they can spend at the book fair on any book of their choosing. All they have to do is create a poster detailing the important details of the book fair:

- Running from Tuesday 10th November to Friday 13th November
- Special offers – 3 for £10 on Dork Diaries books/4 for £10 on Diary of a Roblox Pro books
- Where it is – our school hall
- When it is – right after school on the above dates

Children need to submit their poster by Monday 26th October to Miss Neille to allow time for it to be shown around school prior to the fair. There are only 5 tokens available so Miss Neille will be keeping an eye out for those posters with the most effort put into them!

Thank you

Miss Neille – Y6 teacher
